

THE ESL MONTHLY

The ESL goes back to school

December marked the start of the orientation forum season, a pivotal time for students in their final year of high school.

With the Parcoursup deadline looming, these events have become a must for students.

The administrative team visited the Lycées Saint-Sernin and Ozenne. Accompanied by teaching staff and student ambassadors, they offered a comprehensive overview of the range of courses available.

This was an opportunity for a genuine exchange of views on educational content and opportunities for study abroad.

The discussions demystified higher education and helped high school students refine their career plans.

Further events are planned for January and February.

To the European School of Law - Toulouse's international Masters and LL.M. programs

UNIVERSITÉ TOULOUSE CAPITOLE

EUROPEAN SCHOOL OF LAW TOULOUSE

The application campaign for ESL's English-speaking Masters programs is open from December 1 to January 31.

The school offers three courses of excellence (LL.M.) taught entirely in English, designed to meet contemporary legal challenges:

- Cross-border Disputes, for future experts in cross-border and international dispute resolution.
- International Economic Law, to navigate the complexities of a globalized economy.
- International Aviation Law, for careers in aviation law.

These Masters programs are real springboards for a career in international and European law.

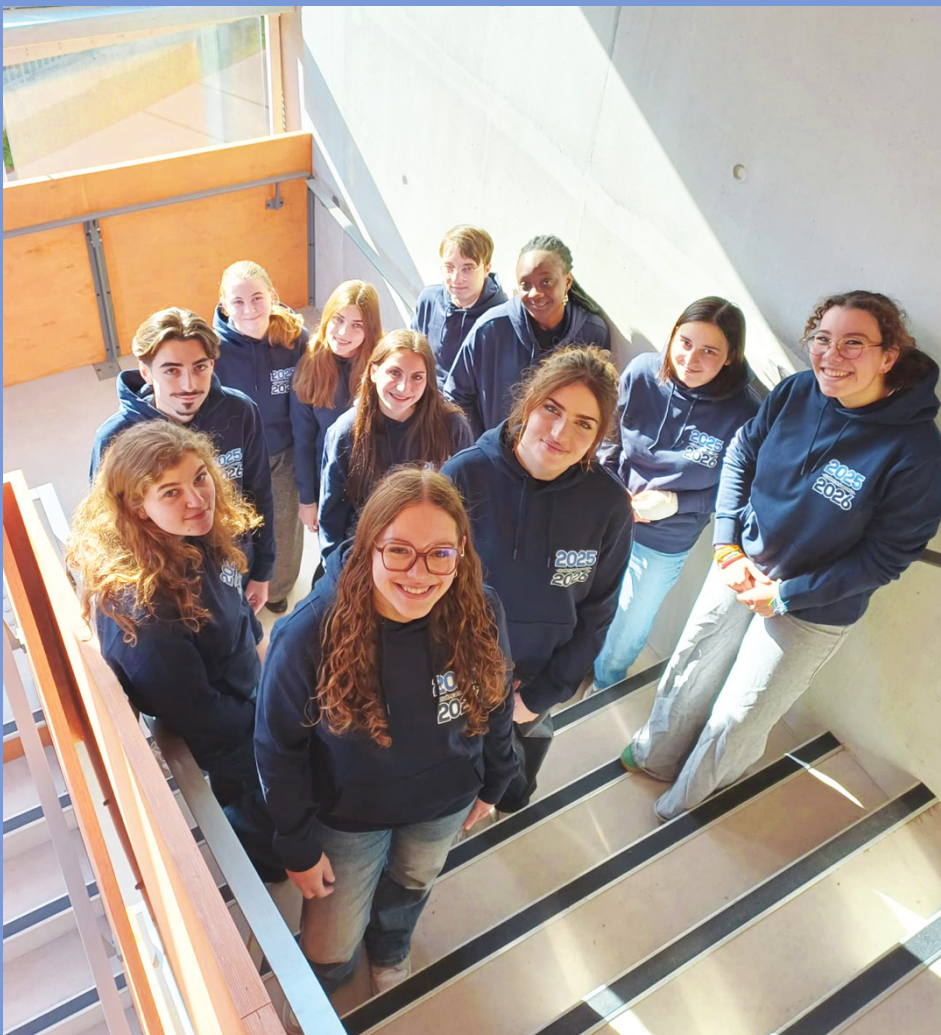

They embody the ESL

It's a big first for the European School of Law - Toulouse! The year 2025 marks a turning point for the School with the official launch of its first class of student ambassadors.

The faces of ESL, these students have been selected to embody the excellence and diversity of the courses offered by the school. They represent the entire range of courses on offer, from double diplomas to bilingual bachelor's degrees and master's degrees.

Their mission? To create a close relationship with future applicants. Throughout the year, our student ambassadors will be mobilized in the field. You'll be able to talk to them at major career guidance events (trade fairs, student forums, open days) to get concrete, unfiltered feedback.

You'll also have the chance to meet them on our social networks, where they'll be doing their utmost to promote the school and the city of Toulouse!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!
SEE YOU NEXT YEAR
